"A life spent making mistakes is not only more honorable, but more useful than a life spent doing nothing."

— George Bernard Shaw